

ABSTRACT

An optical functional film comprises a multilayer film formed by stacking a plurality of films. The plurality of films are formed by a same material and 5 refractive indices of adjacent films are different.